How Vonage Works

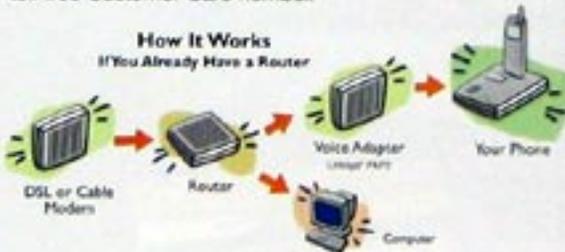

Vonage lets you use the power of the Internet to make and receive phone calls. The Vonage phone adapter converts your voice so that it can be sent over the Internet using your high-speed connection. To use Vonage, you need a broadband Internet connection such as DSL or Cable modem and a touchtone phone.

Vonage works just like the telephone service you have in your home today. Pick up the phone, dial the number and it connects to the person you are calling.

Vonage is easy to set up

We provide an easy to use installation guide. Customers usually install our service in less than 5 minutes. Our knowledgeable Customer Care representatives are available to answer your questions 24/7, online or via our toll free Customer Care number.

Virtual Phone Number™

A Virtual Phone Number is an inexpensive secondary number that rings to your primary Vonage line

1 Let's say you live in New York and your Vonage primary number is in area code 718.

2 Your mom lives in Los Angeles. Her area code is 323.

3 You can get a secondary virtual phone number in area code 323 that rings to your 718 line.

4 Now mom doesn't have to pay long distance charges when she calls you.

Take Vonage With You Anywhere

Vonage works through the power of the Internet, so you're not tied to one location. All you need is your Vonage phone adapter and a broadband Internet connection (DSL or Cable modem). When visiting family, going on vacation or traveling for business, you can make and receive calls, as if you were at home.

SoftPhone® X-PRO

Make and receive calls directly from your computer

SoftPhone is a new feature that can be added to any Vonage account for only $9.99 a month. You get 500 local and long distance minutes and many of the great features that come with your Vonage service. You simply download the SoftPhone digital interface and start using your computer like a phone.
