ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS
GREG ABBOTT

October 31, 2005

Mr. Charles Zech
City Attorney
City of New Braunfels
P.O. Box 311747
New Braunfels, Texas 78131-1747

OR2005-09853

Dear Mr. Zech:

You have asked whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under chapter 552 of the Public Information Act (the "Act"). Your request was assigned ID# 238113.

The City of New Braunfels (the "city") received a request for the legal citation that authorizes the city council "to improve, repair, and enhance private property." The city argues it need not comply with the request because it is not required to perform legal research. We agree. In Open Records Decision No. 563 (1990), the requestor sought documents showing the authority of a non-profit corporation to engage in various activities. We ruled as follows:

> While couched as requests for documents, these are essentially requests for federal and state laws and regulations governing the activities of the corporation and for a statement of the corporation's interpretation of these provisions. The Open Records Act does not require a governmental body to perform legal research for a requestor nor to answer general questions.

Id. at 8. The present request is analogous to the request we dealt with in Open Records Decision No. 563, and we thus conclude that the city is not required to respond to the request since legal research is required to secure the information.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, upon receiving this ruling, the governmental body will either release the public records promptly pursuant to section 552.221(a) of the Government Code or file a lawsuit challenging this ruling pursuant to section 552.324 of the Government Code. If the governmental body fails to do one of these things, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Tex. Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Office of the Attorney General at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,

Yen-Ha Le
Assistant Attorney General
Open Records Division
