Ms. J. Middlebrooks
Assistant City Attorney
Dallas Police Department
1400 South Lamar Street #300A
Dallas, Texas 75215-1801

OR2003-7850

Dear Ms. Middlebrooks:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 190357.

The Dallas Police Department (the "department") received a request for "[a]ll personnel, discipline, commendation, internal affairs, public integrity, recruit, training and work history" concerning a named police officer. You claim that portions of the requested information are excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101, 552.108, 552.117, and 552.130 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.<sup>1</sup>

We first address your contention that some of the requested information is made confidential by Chapter 611 of the Health and Safety Code, which provides for the confidentiality of records created or maintained by a mental health professional. Section 611.002(a) reads as follows:

Communications between a patient and a professional, and records of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient that are created or maintained by a professional, are confidential.

<sup>1</sup>We assume that the sample of records submitted to this office is truly representative of the requested records as a whole. See Open Records Decision Nos. 499 (1988), 497 (1988). This open records letter does not reach, and therefore does not authorize the withholding of, any other requested records to the extent that those records contain substantially different types of information than that submitted to this office.

Health & Safety Code § 611.002. Section 611.001 defines a “professional” as (1) a person authorized to practice medicine, (2) a person licensed or certified by the state to diagnose, evaluate or treat mental or emotional conditions or disorders, or (3) a person the patient reasonably believes is authorized, licensed, or certified. Sections 611.004 and 611.0045 provide for access to mental health records only by certain individuals. See Open Records Decision No. 565 (1990). We have marked the information that constitutes mental health records, which may only be released in accordance with the access provisions of sections 611.004 and 611.0045 of the Health and Safety Code.

We turn now to your other arguments. Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure “information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision” and encompasses laws that make criminal history record information (“CHRI”) confidential. CHRI “means information collected about a person by a criminal justice agency that consists of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, and other formal criminal charges and their dispositions” but does not include “driving record information maintained by [the Department of Public Safety (“DPS”)] under Subchapter C, Chapter 521, Transportation Code.” Gov’t Code § 411.082(2).

Federal regulations prohibit the release of CHRI maintained in state and local CHRI systems to the general public. See 28 C.F.R. § 20.21(c)(1) (“Use of criminal history record information disseminated to noncriminal justice agencies shall be limited to the purpose for which it was given.”), (2) (“No agency or individual shall confirm the existence or nonexistence of criminal history record information to any person or agency that would not be eligible to receive the information itself.”). Under chapter 411 of the Government Code, a criminal justice agency may obtain CHRI from DPS or from another criminal justice agency. Id. §§ 411.083(b)(1), .087(a)(2), .089(a). However, CHRI so obtained is confidential and may only be disclosed in very limited instances. Id. § 411.084; see also id. § 411.087 (restrictions on disclosure of CHRI obtained from DPS also apply to CHRI obtained from other criminal justice agencies). Therefore, you must withhold any CHRI that you have in your possession that falls within the ambit of these state and federal regulations.

The submitted records also contain fingerprint information that is subject to sections 559.001, 559.002, and 559.003 of the Government Code. They provide as follows:

Sec. 559.001. DEFINITIONS. In this chapter

- (1) “Biometric identifier” means a retina or iris scan, fingerprint, voiceprint, or record of hand or face geometry.
- (2) “Governmental body” has the meaning assigned by Section 552.003 [of the Government Code], except that the term includes each entity within or created by the judicial branch of state government.

Sec. 559.002. DISCLOSURE OF BIOMETRIC IDENTIFIER. A governmental body that possesses a biometric identifier of an individual:

(1) may not sell, lease, or otherwise disclose the biometric identifier to another person unless:

(A) the individual consents to the disclosure;

(B) the disclosure is required or permitted by a federal statute or by a state statute other than Chapter 552 [of the Government Code]; or

(C) the disclosure is made by or to a law enforcement agency for a law enforcement purpose; and

(2) shall store, transmit, and protect from disclosure the biometric identifier using reasonable care and in a manner that is the same as or more protective than the manner in which the governmental body stores, transmits, and protects its other confidential information.

Sec. 559.003. APPLICATION OF CHAPTER 552. A biometric identifier in the possession of a governmental body is exempt from disclosure under Chapter 552.

It does not appear to this office that section 559.002 permits the disclosure of the submitted fingerprint information. Therefore, the department must withhold the fingerprint information under section 552.101 in conjunction with section 559.003 of the Government Code.

As you point out, the requested documents also include information obtained in the course of conducting a polygraph examination, the release of which is prohibited by law. Section 1703.306 of the Occupations Code provides that “a person for whom a polygraph examination is conducted . . . may not disclose information acquired from a polygraph examination” except to certain categories of people. Because the requestor does not fall within any of the enumerated categories, pursuant to section 552.101 and section 1703.306, you must withhold the polygraph information that we have marked.

The information at issue also includes a “Texas Peace Officer’s Accident Report.” Section 552.101 also incorporates section 550.065(b) of the Transportation Code, which states that it “applies only to information that is held by the [Department of Public Safety] or another governmental entity and relates to a motor vehicle accident reported under [chapter 552] or Section 601.004 [of the Transportation Code.]” This section states that, except as provided by subsection (c), accident reports are privileged and confidential. Section 550.065(c)(4) provides for release of accident reports to a person who provides two of the following three pieces of information: (1) the date of the accident, (2) the name of any person involved in the accident, and (3) the specific location of the accident. See Transp. Code § 550.065(c)(4). Under this provision, a governmental entity is required to release a copy of an accident report to a person who provides two or more pieces of information specified by the statute. Id. In this instance, the requestor has not provided the department with two of the three pieces of information. Thus, pursuant to section 552.101, you must withhold the “Texas Peace Officer’s Accident Report” as information that is confidential by law.

In addition, section 552.101 encompasses the common law right of privacy, which protects information if it (1) contains highly intimate or embarrassing facts, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate concern to the public. Industrial Foundation v. Texas Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668, 685 (Tex. 1976). The types of information considered intimate and embarrassing by the Texas Supreme Court in Industrial Foundation included information relating to sexual assault, pregnancy, mental or physical abuse in the workplace, illegitimate children, psychiatric treatment of mental disorders, attempted suicide, and injuries to sexual organs. Id. at 683. In addition, this office has found that the following types of information are excepted from required public disclosure under common law privacy: an individual’s criminal history when compiled by a governmental body, see Open Records Decision No. 565 (citing United States Dep’t of Justice v. Reporters Comm. for Freedom of the Press, 489 U.S. 749 (1989)), personal financial information not relating to a financial transaction between an individual and a governmental body, see Open Records Decision Nos. 600 (1992), 545 (1990), some kinds of medical information or information indicating disabilities or specific illnesses, see Open Records Decision Nos. 470 (1987) (illness from severe emotional and job-related stress), 455 (1987) (prescription drugs, illnesses, operations, and physical handicaps), and identities of victims of sexual abuse, see Open Records Decision Nos. 440 (1986), 393 (1983), 339 (1982). Having reviewed the submitted information, we agree that a small portion of it is protected by common law privacy and must be withheld under section 552.101 on that basis. As for the remaining information, we find that, even if it could be considered highly intimate or embarrassing, it is of legitimate public concern. See Open Records Decision Nos. 444 at 5-6 (1986) (public has interest in public employee’s qualifications and performance and circumstances of his resignation or termination), 405 at 2-3 (1983) (public has interest in manner in which public employee performs his job); see also Open Records Decision No. 423 at 2 (1984) (scope of public employee privacy is narrow). We have marked the types of information that must be withheld under section 552.101 on the basis of common law privacy.

You also contend that cellular telephone and pager numbers of police officers are excepted from disclosure under section 552.108(b)(1). This section excepts from public disclosure an internal record of a law-enforcement agency that is maintained for internal use in matters relating to law enforcement or prosecution if “release of the internal record or notation would interfere with law enforcement or prosecution.” Section 552.108(b)(1) is intended to protect “information which, if released, would permit private citizens to anticipate weaknesses in a police department, avoid detection, jeopardize officer safety, and generally undermine police efforts to effectuate the laws of this State.” City of Ft. Worth v. Cornyn, 86 S.W.3d 320, 327 (Tex. App.—Austin, 2002, no pet.). This office has determined that the statutory predecessor to section 552.108(b) excepts from disclosure “the cellular mobile phone numbers assigned to county officials and employees with specific law enforcement responsibilities.” Open Records Decision No. 506 at 2 (1988). In that decision, we noted that the purpose of the cellular telephones is to ensure immediate access to individuals with specific law enforcement responsibilities and that public access to these numbers could interfere with that purpose. Id. at 2. We therefore agree that the department may withhold the officers’ cellular telephone and pager numbers pursuant to section 552.108(b)(1) of the Government Code.

You also assert that some of the requested information must be withheld pursuant to section 552.117 of the Government Code. Section 552.117(a)(2) excepts from disclosure the present and former home addresses and telephone numbers, social security numbers, and family member information of a peace officer regardless of whether the officer requests confidentiality under section 552.024.<sup>2</sup> You indicate that the individuals at issue were licensed peace officers when the department received this request. Therefore, we agree that, under section 552.117(a)(2), the department must withhold the listed information concerning these individuals. We have marked the type information that the department must withhold.

Finally, you contend that a portion of the submitted information is excepted under section 552.130. This section excepts from disclosure “information [that] relates to . . . a motor vehicle operator’s or driver’s license or permit issued by an agency of this state.” Pursuant to section 552.130, the department must withhold the type of information we have marked.

In summary, mental health records may only be released in accordance with chapter 611 of the of the Health and Safety Code. Pursuant to section 552.101, the department must withhold the following types of information, which are made confidential by the indicated statutes: (1) any CHRI that the department has in its possession that falls within the ambit of the applicable federal and state regulations (section 20.21 of title 28 of the Code of Federal Regulations and sections 411.084 and 411.087 of the Government Code), (2) fingerprint information (section 559.003 of the Government Code), (3) a “Texas Peace Officer’s Accident Report” (section 550.065 of the Transportation Code), and (4) information acquired from a polygraph examination (section 1703.306 of the Occupations Code). We have also marked the types of information that must be withheld under section 552.101 in conjunction with common law privacy. The department may withhold police officers' cellular telephone and pager numbers pursuant to section 552.108(b)(1). Peace officers' present and former home addresses and telephone numbers, social security numbers, and family member information must be withheld in accordance with section 552.117(a)(2). We have marked the types of motor vehicle record information that the department must withhold pursuant to section 552.130. The remaining requested information must be released.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, within 10 calendar days of this ruling, the governmental body will do one of the following three things: 1) release the public records; 2) notify the requestor of the exact day, time, and place that copies of the records will be provided or that the records can be inspected; or 3) notify the requestor of the governmental body's intent to challenge this letter ruling in court. If the governmental body fails to do one of these three things within 10 calendar days of this ruling, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Texas Building and Procurement Commission at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. We note that a third party may challenge this ruling by filing suit seeking to withhold information from a requestor. Gov't Code § 552.325. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,

Denis C. McElroy
