OR2008-01570

Dear Ms. Chang:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 301162.

The City of Houston (the "city") received two requests for a copy of the security alert issued against the requestor. You claim that the requested information is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101 and 552.108 of the Government Code. We have considered the exceptions you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. Under this section, this office has determined that information may be withheld from public disclosure in certain special circumstances. In Open Records Decision No. 169 (1977), we considered the personal safety concerns of public employees and recognized that there may be specific instances where "special circumstances" exist to except from public disclosure some of the employees' addresses. See Open Records Decision No. 123 (1976). In that decision, the employees demonstrated that their lives would be placed in danger if their addresses were released to the public. ORD 169 at 7. This office further noted that the initial determination of credible threats and safety concerns should be made by the governmental body to which a request for disclosure is directed, and this office will determine whether a governmental body has demonstrated the existence of special circumstances on a case-by-case basis. Id. We noted, however, that "special circumstances" do not include "a generalized and speculative fear of harassment or retribution." Id. at 6.

You explain, and provide documentation supporting, that some of the requested information reveals the procedures for handling a former employee of the city and release of the information could endanger city employees. In this instance, you state that the requestor, who is the former city employee at issue, has made threatening statements to city staff. You also state that the requestor has entered into a city building without passing through security and that release of the information at issue would “notify the requestor and other individuals of the [c]ity’s security procedures in dealing with potential security threats” and would “enable other individuals who wanted to evade the [c]ity’s security measures.” Based on your representations and our review of the information at issue, we conclude that the city has demonstrated the existence of special circumstances regarding the information at issue. Accordingly, the city must withhold the information you have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code. As our ruling is dispositive, we need not address your remaining argument against disclosure.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov’t Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must file suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such a challenge, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, upon receiving this ruling, the governmental body will either release the public records promptly pursuant to section 552.221(a) of the Government Code or file a lawsuit challenging this ruling pursuant to section 552.324 of the Government Code. If the governmental body fails to do one of these things, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general’s Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can challenge that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep’t of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Office of the Attorney General at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,

Loan Hong-Turney
Assistant Attorney General
