Dear Ms. De La Garza:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 376098.

The Houston Police Department (the "department") received a request for DNA reports and profiles related to suspects and victims involved in a specified incident. You claim the requested information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. Section 552.101 encompasses information made confidential by statute, including section 411.153 of the Government Code, which provides as follows:

- (a) A DNA record stored in the DNA database is confidential and is not subject to disclosure under the public information law, Chapter 552.
- (b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly discloses to an unauthorized recipient information in a DNA record or information related to a DNA analysis of a sample collected under this subchapter.
- (c) An offense under this section is a state jail felony.
- (d) A violation under this section constitutes official misconduct.

Id. § 411.153. A "DNA record" means the results of a forensic DNA analysis performed by a DNA laboratory. See id. § 411.141(6)-(7). "Forensic analysis" is defined as "a medical, chemical, toxicologic, ballistic, or other expert examination or test performed on physical evidence, including DNA evidence, for the purpose of determining the connection of the evidence to a criminal action.” See Crim. Proc. Code art. 38.35(4); see also Gov’t Code § 411.141(10) (providing that “forensic analysis” has meaning assigned by Crim. Proc. Code art. 38.35). A “DNA database” means “one or more databases that contain forensic DNA records maintained by the director [of the Texas Department of Public Safety (the “DPS”).” Gov’t Code § 411.141(5); see id. § 411.001(3).

The director of the DPS is required to establish certain procedures for DNA laboratories. See id. §§ 411.144(a), .142(h) (requiring director to establish standards for DNA analysis). Section 411.144 of the Government Code provides that a DNA laboratory conducting a forensic DNA analysis under subchapter G of chapter 411 shall comply with subchapter G and the rules adopted under subchapter G. See id. § 411.144(d); 37 T.A.C § 28.82(a). The DPS has adopted rules that govern the regulation of forensic DNA laboratories in this state. See 37 T.A.C. §§ 28.81, .82 (describing minimum standards by which a forensic DNA laboratory must abide); see also Gov’t Code § 411.147(b).

In this instance, you inform us the submitted documents are DNA records relating to DNA analyses of samples collected under subchapter G of chapter 411 of the Government Code. The submitted documents are related to a criminal investigation. You also inform us the submitted documents are the result of forensic DNA analyses performed by a DNA laboratory in accordance with DPS regulations. We therefore conclude that you must withhold the submitted DNA records under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 411.153 of the Government Code.
