Ms. Yvette Aguilar
Assistant City Attorney
City of Corpus Christi
P.O. Box 9277

OR2010-09554

Dear Ms. Aguilar:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 384774.

The Corpus Christi Police Department (the "department") received a request for information pertaining to a specified incident. You claim the requested information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. This exception encompasses information protected by other statutes, such as section 261.201 of the Family Code, which provides in relevant part:

(a) [T]he following information is confidential, is not subject to public release under [the Act], and may be disclosed only for purposes consistent with this code and applicable federal or state law or under rules adopted by an investigating agency:

(1) a report of alleged or suspected abuse or neglect made under this chapter and the identity of the person making the report; and

(2) except as otherwise provided in this section, the files, reports, records, communications, audiotapes, videotapes, and working papers used or developed in an investigation under this chapter or in providing services as a result of an investigation.

(k) Notwithstanding Subsection (a), an investigating agency . . . on request, shall provide to the parent, managing conservator, or other legal representative of a child who is the subject of reported abuse or neglect, or to the child if the child is at least 18 years of age, information concerning the reported abuse or neglect that would otherwise be confidential under this section. The investigating agency shall withhold information under this subsection if the parent, managing conservator, or other legal representative of the child requesting the information is alleged to have committed the abuse or neglect.

(l) Before a child or a parent, managing conservator, or other legal representative of a child may inspect or copy a record or file concerning the child under Subsection (k), the custodian of the record or file must redact:

(1) any personally identifiable information about a victim or witness under 18 years of age unless that victim or witness is:

(A) the child who is the subject of the report; or

(B) another child of the parent, managing conservator, or other legal representative requesting the information;

(2) any information that is excepted from required disclosure under [the Act], or other law; and

(3) the identity of the person who made the report.

Fam. Code § 261.201(a), (k), (l). Upon review, we agree the submitted incident report was used or developed in an investigation of alleged child abuse. See id. § 261.001(1) (defining abuse for purposes of Fam. Code Ch. 261). Accordingly, we find the submitted incident report is generally confidential under section 261.201 of the Family Code.

However, we note the submitted incident report reveals that the requestor may be the legal guardian of the child victim listed in the report, and the requestor is not alleged to have committed the abuse. As such, this requestor may have a right of access to the submitted information pursuant to section 261.201(k). As we are unable to determine whether the requestor is the guardian of the child victim, we will rule conditionally. If the requestor is not the guardian of the child victim listed in the submitted information, the department must withhold the submitted information in its entirety under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 261.201(a) of the Family Code.

If the requestor is the guardian of the child victim, pursuant to section 261.201(k), the department may not withhold the submitted information from the requestor under section 261.201(a). Id. § 261.201(k). However, we note that section 261.201(l) also provides that before a guardian can copy and inspect a record of a child under section 261.201(k), any personally identifiable information about a victim or witness under 18 years of age who is not the parent's child and the identity of the party who made the report must be redacted. Id. § 261.201(l)(1), (3). Thus, the department must withhold the information we have marked under section 552.101 in conjunction with section 261.201(l)(1) and section 261.201(l)(3). Further, section 261.201(l)(2) states any information that is excepted from required disclosure under the Act or other law may still be withheld from disclosure. Id. § 261.201(l)(2). We note some of the submitted information is excepted from public disclosure under section 552.101 in conjunction with common-law privacy.

Section 552.101 also encompasses the doctrine of common-law privacy, which protects information that (1) contains highly intimate or embarrassing facts, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate concern to the public. Indus. Found. v. Tex. Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668, 685 (Tex. 1976). To demonstrate the applicability of common-law privacy, both prongs of this test must be demonstrated. Id. at 681-82. The type of information considered intimate or embarrassing by the Texas Supreme Court in Industrial Foundation included information relating to sexual assault, pregnancy, mental or physical abuse in the workplace, illegitimate children, psychiatric treatment of mental disorders, attempted suicide, and injuries to sexual organs. See id. at 683. We note that this office also found that some kinds of medical information or information indicating disabilities or specific illnesses is protected by common-law privacy. See Open Records Decision Nos. 470 (illness from severe emotional and job-related stress), 455 (1987) (prescription drugs, illnesses, operations, and physical handicaps). The department must withhold the information we have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy.

In summary, if the requestor is not the guardian of the child victim listed in the submitted information, the department must withhold the submitted information in its entirety under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 261.201(a) of the Family Code. If the requestor is the guardian of the child victim, the department must withhold the following: 1) the personally identifiable information of any child witness who is not the requestor's child and the reporting party's identity, which we have marked, under section 552.101 in conjunction with sections 261.201(l)(1) and 261.201(l)(3) of the Family

Code; and 2) the information we have marked pursuant to section 552.101 in conjunction with common-law privacy. The remaining information must be released to the requestor.<sup>1</sup>
