Ms. Ramona Coln
Senior Administrative Clerk
City of Wichita Falls - Legal Department
P.O. Box 1431
Wichita Falls, Texas 76307

OR2010-15905

Dear Ms. Coln:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 397536 (City ID# 270).

The Wichita Falls Police Department (the "department") received a request for information pertaining to all 9-1-1 calls and incident reports from a specified address during a certain time period. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. This section encompasses the doctrine of common-law privacy, which protects information if it (1) contains highly intimate or embarrassing facts, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate concern to the public. Indus. Found. v. Tex. Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668, 685 (Tex. 1976). The types of information considered intimate and embarrassing by the Texas Supreme Court in Industrial Foundation included information relating to sexual assault, pregnancy, mental or physical abuse in the workplace, illegitimate children, psychiatric treatment of mental disorders, attempted suicide, and injuries to sexual organs. Id. at 683. The submitted information pertains to an investigation of an alleged sexual assault. Generally, only information that either identifies or tends to identify a victim of sexual assault or other sex-related offense must be withheld under common-law privacy. See Open Records Decision Nos. 440 (1986), 393 (1983), 339 (1982). However, a governmental body is required to withhold an entire report when the requestor knows the identity of the alleged victim. See ORD 393. Although you seek to withhold the submitted information in its entirety, you have not demonstrated, nor does the information reflect, the requestor knows the identity of the alleged sexual assault victim. Thus, you have not demonstrated the submitted information must be withheld in its entirety on the basis of common-law privacy.

However, we have marked the identifying information of the sexual assault victim that must be withheld pursuant to section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy. See ORDs 393, 339.

Section 552.101 also encompasses information made confidential by statute, including the Medical Practice Act (the "MPA"), subtitle B of title 3 of the Occupations Code. Occ. Code §§ 151.001-165.160. Section 159.002 of the MPA provides in part the following:

(b) A record of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that is created or maintained by a physician is confidential and privileged and may not be disclosed except as provided by this chapter.

(c) A person who receives information from a confidential communication or record as described by this chapter, other than a person listed in Section 159.004 who is acting on the patient's behalf, may not disclose the information except to the extent that disclosure is consistent with the authorized purposes for which the information was first obtained.

Id. § 159.002(b), (c). This office has concluded that the protection afforded by section 159.002 extends only to records created by either a physician or someone under the supervision of a physician. See Open Records Decision Nos. 487 (1987), 370 (1983), 343 (1982). Information taken directly from medical records and contained in other documents can be withheld in accordance with the MPA. See Occ. Code §§ 159.002, .004; Open Records Decision No. 598 (1991). We also have concluded that when a file is created as the result of a hospital stay, all of the documents in the file that relate to diagnosis and treatment constitute either physician-patient communications or records of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that are created or maintained by a physician. See Open Records Decision No. 546 (1990). Medical records may be released only as provided under the MPA. ORD 598. Upon review, we determine the information we have marked constitutes medical records and information taken from medical records that may only be released in accordance with the MPA.

Section 552.101 also encompasses section 411.153 of the Government Code, which provides as follows:

(a) A DNA record stored in the DNA database is confidential and is not subject to disclosure under the public information law, Chapter 552.

(b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly discloses to an unauthorized recipient information in a DNA record or information related to a DNA analysis of a sample collected under this subchapter.

(c) An offense under this section is a state jail felony.

(d) A violation under this section constitutes official misconduct.

Gov't Code § 411.153. A "DNA record" means the results of a forensic DNA analysis performed by a DNA laboratory. See id. § 411.141(6)-(7). "Forensic analysis" is defined as "a medical, chemical, toxicologic, ballistic, or other expert examination or test performed on physical evidence, including DNA evidence, for the purpose of determining the connection of the evidence to a criminal action." See Crim. Proc. Code art. 38.35(4); see also Gov't Code § 411.141(10) (providing that "forensic analysis" has meaning assigned by Crim. Proc. Code art. 38.35). A "DNA database" means "one or more databases that contain forensic DNA records maintained by the director [of the Texas Department of Public Safety (the "DPS")]." Gov't Code § 411.141(5); see id. § 411.001(3).

The director of the DPS is required to establish certain procedures for DNA laboratories. See id. §§ 411.144(a), .142(h) (requiring director to establish standards for DNA analysis). Section 411.144 of the Government Code provides that a DNA laboratory conducting a forensic DNA analysis under subchapter G of chapter 411 shall comply with subchapter G and the rules adopted under subchapter G. See id. § 411.144(d); 37 T.A.C § 28.82(a). The DPS has adopted rules that govern the regulation of forensic DNA laboratories in this state. See 37 T.A.C. §§ 28.81, .82 (describing minimum standards by which a forensic DNA laboratory must abide); see also Gov't Code § 411.147(b).

In this instance, some of the remaining documents are DNA records relating to DNA analyses of samples collected under subchapter G of chapter 411 of the Government Code. The documents in question are contained in records of a criminal investigation. The documents appear to be the result of forensic DNA analyses performed by a DNA laboratory in accordance with DPS regulations. We therefore conclude the department must withhold the DNA records that we have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 411.153 of the Government Code.

We note some of the remaining information is subject to section 552.130 of the Government Code.¹ Section 552.130 excepts from disclosure "information [that] relates to . . . a motor vehicle operator's or driver's license or permit issued by an agency of this state [or] a motor vehicle title or registration issued by an agency of this state[.]" Gov't Code § 552.130(a)(1), (2). The department must withhold the information we have marked pursuant to section 552.130.²

In summary, the department must withhold the information we have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy. The ¹The Office of the Attorney General will raise a mandatory exception on behalf of a governmental body, but ordinarily will not raise other exceptions. See Open Records Decision Nos. 481 (1987), 480 (1987), 470 (1987).

²We note this office recently issued Open Records Decision No. 684 (2009), a previous determination to all governmental bodies authorizing them to withhold ten categories of information, including a Texas driver's license number and Texas license plate number under section 552.130 of the Government Code, without the necessity of requesting an attorney general decision.

marked medical records and information taken from medical records may only be released in accordance with the MPA. The department must withhold the DNA records we have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 411.153 of the Government Code. The department must withhold the information we have marked pursuant to section 552.130 of the Government Code. The remaining information must be released.³
