

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS
GREG ABBOTT

August 23, 2011

Ms. Janet Monteros
Assistant County Attorney
El Paso County
500 East San Antonio, Room 503
El Paso, Texas 79901

OR2011-12185

Dear Ms. Monteros:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 427692 (CA-OP-11-235).

The El Paso Medical Examiner's Office (the "medical examiner") received a request for information relating to the death of a named individual. You state some of the information will be released. You claim the remaining information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. Section 552.101 encompasses the Medical Practice Act (the "MPA"), subtitle B of title 3 of the Occupations Code. Section 159.002 of the MPA provides:

(b) A record of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that is created or maintained by a physician is confidential and privileged and may not be disclosed except as provided by this chapter.

(c) A person who receives information from a confidential communication or record as described by this chapter, other than a person listed in Section 159.004 who is acting on the patient's behalf, may not disclose the information except to the extent that disclosure is consistent with the authorized purposes for which the information was first obtained.

Occ. Code § 159.002(b)–(c). This office has concluded the protection afforded by section 159.002 extends only to records created by either a physician or someone under the supervision of a physician. See Open Records Decision Nos. 487 (1987), 370 (1983), 343 (1982). This office also has concluded that when a file is created as the result of a hospital stay, all of the documents in the file that relate to diagnosis and treatment constitute either physician-patient communications or records of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that are created or maintained by a physician. See Open Records Decision No. 546 (1990). Medical records must be released upon receipt of the patient's signed, written consent, provided the consent specifies (1) the information to be covered by the release, (2) the reasons or purposes for the release, and (3) the person to whom the information is to be released. See Occ. Code §§ 159.004, .005. After the death of a patient, medical records may be released only on the signed written consent of the deceased individual's personal representative. Id. § 159.005(a)(5). Any subsequent release of medical records must be consistent with the purposes for which the governmental body obtained the records. See id. § 159.002(c); Open Records Decision No. 565 at 7 (1990).

Upon review, we find the information you have marked consists of the named individual's medical record, which is subject to the MPA. You state the named individual is deceased. Thus, the medical record you have marked must be withheld under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with the MPA, unless the medical examiner receives signed written consent that complies with the MPA for the release of that record.

You state the remaining information you have marked that relates to the deceased individual might be protected by the privacy interests of his surviving relatives. Section 552.101 of the Government Code also encompasses the doctrine constitutional privacy. Constitutional privacy protects two kinds of interests. See Whalen v. Roe, 429 U.S.589,599-600 (1977); Open Records Decision Nos. 600 at 3–5 (1992), 478 at 4 (1987), 455 at 3–7 (1987). The first is the interest in independence in making certain important decisions related to the “zones of privacy,” pertaining to marriage, procreation, contraception, family relationships, and child rearing and education, that have been recognized by the United States Supreme Court. See Fado v. Coon, 633 F.2d 1172 (5th Cir. 1981); ORD 455 at 3–7. The second constitutionally protected privacy interest is in freedom from public disclosure of certain personal matters. See Ramie v. City of Hedwig Village, Tex., 765 F.2d 490 (5th Cir.1985); ORD 455 at 6–7. This aspect of constitutional privacy balances the individual's privacy interest against the public's interest in the information. See ORD 455 at 7. Constitutional privacy under section 552.101 is reserved for “the most intimate aspects of human affairs.” Id. at 8 (quoting Ramie, 765 F.2d at 492). We note the right to privacy is a personal right that lapses at death and therefore may not be asserted solely on behalf of a deceased individual. See Moore v. Charles B. Pierce Film Enters., Inc., 589 S.W.2d 489, 491 (Tex. Civ. App.—Texarkana 1979, writ ref'd n.r.e.); Open Records Decision No. 272 at 1 (1981) (privacy rights lapse upon death). However, the United States Supreme Court has determined that surviving family members can have a privacy interest in information relating to their deceased relatives. See Nat'l Archives & Records Admin. v. Favish, 124 S. Ct. 1570 (2004). You state the medical examiner does not know of any family members of the deceased individual, thus, the medical examiner has not notified any family members of the request. Accordingly, we have no basis for determining the decedent's family has a privacy interest in any of the information you have marked. Upon review, we find you have failed to demonstrate the information you have marked falls within the zones of privacy or otherwise implicates an individual's privacy interests for purposes of constitutional privacy. Thus, the medical examiner may not withhold it under section 552.101 of the Government Code on that basis.

In summary, the medical examiner must withhold the marked medical record under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with the MPA, unless the medical examiner receives consent that complies with the provisions of the MPA. The remaining information must be released.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
