

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS
GREG ABBOTT

September 23, 2011

Ms. Jennifer C. Cohen
Assistant General Counsel
Department of Public Safety
P.O. Box 4087
Austin, Texas 78773-0001

OR2011-13817

Dear Ms. Cohen:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 431041 (PIR#'s 11-1646 and 11-1874).

The Department of Public Safety (the "department") received two requests from different requestors for information pertaining to a specified investigation by a named Texas Ranger. You state you have released some of the requested information to each requestor. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Initially, we note, and you acknowledge, the department has not complied with the time periods prescribed by section 552.301 of the Government Code in seeking an open records decision from this office. When a governmental body fails to comply with the procedural requirements of section 552.301, the information at issue is presumed public and must be released unless there is a compelling reason to withhold it. See Gov't Code § 552.302; Simmons v. Kuzmich, 166 S.W.3d 342, 350 (Tex. App.—Fort Worth 2005, no pet.); Hancock v. State Bd. of Ins., 797 S.W.2d 379, 381-82 (Tex. App.—Austin 1990, no writ) (governmental body must make compelling demonstration to overcome presumption of openness pursuant to statutory predecessor to section 552.302); see also Open Records Decision No. 630 (1994). Generally, a governmental body may demonstrate a compelling reason to withhold information by a showing the information is made confidential by another source of law or affects third party interests. See Open Records Decision No. 150 at 2

(1977). Because section 552.101 can provide a compelling reason to overcome this presumption, we will address the applicability of section 552.101 to the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure “information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision.” Gov’t Code § 552.101. Section 552.101 encompasses information made confidential by statute, such as the Medical Practice Act (“MPA”), subtitle B of title 3 of the Occupations Code, which governs release of medical records. See Occ. Code §§ 151.001-165.160. Section 159.002 of the MPA provides in pertinent part:

(b) A record of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that is created or maintained by a physician is confidential and privileged and may not be disclosed except as provided by this chapter.

(c) A person who receives information from a confidential communication or record as described by this chapter, other than a person listed in Section 159.004 who is acting on the patient’s behalf, may not disclose the information except to the extent that disclosure is consistent with the authorized purposes for which the information was first obtained.

Id. § 159.002(b), (c). Information subject to the MPA includes both medical records and information obtained from those medical records. See id. §§ 159.002, .004; Open Records Decision No. 598 (1991). This office has concluded the protection afforded by section 159.002 extends only to records created by either a physician or someone under the supervision of a physician. See Open Records Decision Nos. 487 (1987), 370 (1983), 343 (1982). We have further found when a file is created as a result of a hospital stay, all the documents in the file referring to diagnosis and treatment constitute physician-patient communications or “[r]ecords of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that are created or maintained by a physician.” Open Records Decision No. 546 (1990). Medical records may only be released in accordance with the MPA. See ORD 598. Accordingly, the submitted medical records, which you have marked, must be withheld under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with the MPA, unless the department receives written consent for release of those records that complies with sections 159.004 and 159.005 of the MPA.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code also encompasses information protected by section 773.091 of the Health and Safety Code, which provides in part:

(b) Records of the identity, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by emergency medical services personnel or by a physician providing medical supervision that are created by the emergency medical services personnel or physician or maintained by an emergency medical services provider are confidential and privileged and may not be disclosed except as provided by this chapter.

(g) The privilege of confidentiality under this section does not extend to information regarding the presence, nature of injury or illness, age, sex, occupation, and city of residence of a patient who is receiving emergency medical services.

Health & Safety Code § 773.091(b), (g). The remaining information consists of records made by emergency medical services personnel. Upon review, we find section 773.091 is applicable to this information, which you have marked. Thus, with the exception of the information subject to section 773.091(g), which is not confidential, the department must withhold the marked emergency medical services records under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 773.091(b) of the Health and Safety Code.

In summary, the submitted medical records, which you have marked, must be withheld under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with the MPA, unless the department receives written consent for release of those records that complies with sections 159.004 and 159.005 of the MPA. With the exception of the information subject to section 773.091(g), the department must withhold the marked emergency medical services records under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 773.091(b) of the Health and Safety Code. The information subject to section 773.091(g) of the Health and Safety Code must be released.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
