Ms. Neera Chatterjee
Office of General Counsel
The University of Texas System

OR2012-10191

Dear Ms. Chatterjee:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 458571 (UT OGC # 143392).

The University of Texas at San Antonio (the "university") received a request for specified performance data for the 2010 and 2011 calendar years pertaining to the activation of emergency mass notification systems used to reach the campus community. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101 and 552.108 of the Government Code. We have considered the exceptions you claim and reviewed the submitted representative sample of information.<sup>1</sup>

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. Section 552.101 encompasses information that other statutes make confidential, such as section 418.176 of the Texas Homeland Security Act (the "HSA"), chapter 418 of the Government Code. Section 418.176 provides in relevant part:

<sup>1</sup>We assume that the "representative sample" of records submitted to this office is truly representative of the requested records as a whole. See Open Records Decision Nos. 499 (1988), 497 (1988). This open records letter does not reach, and therefore does not authorize the withholding of, any other requested records to the extent that those records contain substantially different types of information than that submitted to this office.

(a) Information is confidential if the information is collected, assembled, or maintained by or for a governmental entity for the purpose of preventing, detecting, responding to, or investigating an act of terrorism or related criminal activity and:

(1) relates to staffing requirements of an emergency response provider, including a law enforcement agency, a fire-fighting agency, or an emergency services agency [or]

(2) relates to a tactical plan of the provider[.]

Id. § 418.176(a)(1), (2). The fact that information may generally be related to emergency preparedness does not make the information per se confidential under the provisions of the HSA. See Open Records Decision No. 649 at 3 (1996) (language of confidentiality provisions controls scope of its protection). As with any confidentiality statute, a governmental body asserting this section must adequately explain how the responsive information falls within the scope of the provision. See Gov't Code § 552.301(e)(1)(A) (governmental body must explain how claimed exception to disclosure applies).

You state the submitted information relates to the university's tactical plan regarding its emergency notification system (the "system"). You also state that, in this instance, the university is an emergency response provider because the university's police department has access to the system to send out alerts to the campus community for the purposes of preventing, detecting, and responding to potential acts of terrorism or other related criminal activity. You explain the submitted information "indicate[s] how, through its emergency notification system, the [u]niversity can send out alerts to the campus community" and "indicate[s] how successful the alerts were each time the system was used." Upon review, we find you have demonstrated that this information relates to a tactical plan of an emergency response provider and is maintained for the purpose of preventing, detecting, responding to, or investigating an act of terrorism or related criminal activity. Accordingly, the submitted information is confidential pursuant to section 418.176 of the Government Code and the university must withhold it under section 552.101 of the Government Code.<sup>2</sup>

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

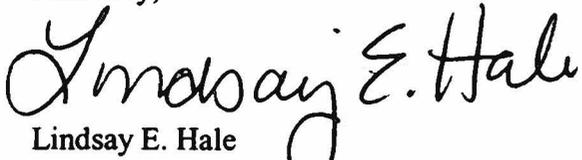

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
