OR2013-02379

Dear Ms. Camp-Lee:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 478626.

The City of Round Rock (the "city"), which you represent, received a request for all crime reports and 9-1-1 calls pertaining to a named individual and a specified address. You claim the requested information is exempted from disclosure under sections 552.101 and 552.130 of the Government Code. We have considered the exceptions you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code exempts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. This section encompasses the doctrine of common-law privacy, which protects information that (1) contains highly intimate or embarrassing facts, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate concern to the public. Indus. Found. v. Tex. Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668, 685 (Tex. 1976). To demonstrate the applicability of common-law privacy, both prongs of this test must be satisfied. Id. at 681-82. This office has found that personal financial information not relating to the financial transaction between an individual and a governmental body is exempted from required public disclosure under common-law privacy.

See Open Records Decision Nos. 600 (1992), 545 (1990). A compilation of an individual's criminal history is highly embarrassing information, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person. Cf. U.S. Dep't of Justice v. Reporters Comm. for Freedom of the Press, 489 U.S. 749, 764 (1989) (finding significant privacy interest in compilation of individual's criminal history by recognizing distinction between public records found in courthouse files and local police stations and compiled summary of criminal history information). Furthermore, we find that a compilation of a private citizen's criminal history is generally not of legitimate concern to the public.

The present request, in part, requires the city to compile unspecified law enforcement records concerning the named individual. We find this request for unspecified law enforcement records implicates the named individual's right to privacy. Therefore, to the extent the city maintains law enforcement records depicting the named individual as a suspect, arrestee, or criminal defendant, the city must withhold any such information under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy.

We note the city has submitted information that does not depict the named individual as a suspect, arrestee, or a criminal defendant. This information does not constitute a criminal history compilation protected by common-law privacy and may not be withheld on that basis under section 552.101. However, we find the information you have marked and the information we have marked is highly intimate or embarrassing and not of legitimate public concern. Therefore, the city must withhold the information you have marked and the information we have marked pursuant to section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy.

Section 552.101 also encompasses section 411.192 of the Government Code, which governs the release of all information maintained by the Department of Public Safety ("DPS") concerning the licensure of individuals to carry a concealed handgun. Section 411.192 provides:

(a) [DPS] shall disclose to a criminal justice agency information contained in its files and records regarding whether a named individual or any individual named in a specified list is licensed under this subchapter. Information on an individual subject to disclosure under this section includes the individual's name, date of birth, gender, race, zip code, telephone number, e-mail address, and Internet website address. Except as otherwise provided by this section and by Section 411.193, all other records maintained under this subchapter are confidential and are not subject to mandatory disclosure under the open records law, Chapter 552.

b) An applicant or license holder may be furnished a copy of disclosable records regarding the applicant or license holder on request and the payment of a reasonable fee.

Gov't Code § 411.192(a), (b). It appears the city received the concealed handgun license information you have marked from DPS. The requestor is not a criminal justice agency, nor is the requestor a license holder whose information is at issue. Further, we note section 411.193 is not applicable in this instance. See id. § 411.193 (making statistical report including number of licenses issued, denied, revoked, or suspended during the preceding month available to the public). Accordingly, the city must withhold the information you have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 411.192 of the Government Code.

Section 552.130 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure information that relates to a motor vehicle operator's license or driver's license, a motor vehicle title or registration, or personal identification document issued by a Texas agency, or an agency of another state or country. See id. § 552.130(a)(1)-(3). Upon review, we find the city must withhold the information you have marked and the information we have marked under section 552.130 of the Government Code.

In summary, to the extent the city maintains law enforcement records depicting the named individual as a suspect, arrestee, or criminal defendant, the city must withhold any such information under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy. The city must withhold the information you have marked and the information we have under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy. The city must withhold the information you have marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 411.192 of the Government Code. The city must withhold the information you marked and the information we marked under section 552.130 of the Government Code. The remaining information must be released.<sup>1</sup>
