

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS

Ms. Laura C. Ingram
Assistant District Attorney
Wichita County

OR2013-04058

Dear Ms. Ingram:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 481144.

The Wichita County Sheriff's Office (the "sheriff's office") received a request for any and all reports and warrants for a named individual. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101, 552.130, and 552.147 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. This section encompasses the doctrine of common-law privacy, which protects information if (1) it contains highly intimate or embarrassing facts, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate concern to the public. See Indus. Found. v. Tex. Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668, 685 (Tex. 1976). To demonstrate the applicability of common-law privacy, both elements of the test must be established. Id. at 681-82. A compilation of an individual's criminal history is highly embarrassing information, the publication of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person. Cf. United States Dep't of Justice v. Reporters Comm. for Freedom of the Press, 489 U.S. 749, 764 (1989) (when considering prong regarding individual's privacy interest, court recognized distinction between public records found in courthouse files and local police stations and compiled summary of information and noted that individual has significant privacy interest in compilation of one's criminal history). Furthermore, we find that a compilation of a private citizen's criminal history is generally not of legitimate concern to the public. In this instance, the requestor seeks access to unspecified law enforcement records relating to the named individual. Thus, this request requires the sheriff's office to compile the named individual's criminal history and thereby implicates her right to privacy.

However, we note the requestor is an investigator for the Texas Board of Nursing (the "board"). Section 411.125(a) of the Government Code provides that [t]he [board] is entitled to obtain from the [Texas Department of Public Safety ("DPS")] criminal history record information maintained by [DPS] that relates to a person who:

- (1) is an applicant for or the holder of a license issued by the board;
- (2) has requested a determination of eligibility for a license from the board; or
- (3) is subject to investigation by the board in connection with a complaint or formal charge against the person.

Gov't Code § 411.125(a). Moreover, section 411.087(a) of the Government Code provides in part:

(a) [A] person, agency, department, political subdivision, or other entity that is authorized by this subchapter to obtain from [DPS] criminal history record information maintained by [DPS] that relates to another person is authorized to:

- (2) obtain from any other criminal justice agency in this state criminal history record information maintained by that criminal justice agency that relates to that person.

Id. § 411.087(a)(2). "Criminal history record information" is defined as "information collected about a person by a criminal justice agency that consists of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, and other formal criminal charges and their dispositions." Id. § 411.082(2). Thus, under sections 411.125 and 411.087, the requestor may have a right of access to any criminal history record information about the named individual contained in the sheriff's office's records.

Accordingly, to the extent the named individual is an applicant for a license from the board, a holder of a license from the board, has requested a determination of eligibility for a license from the board, or is subject to investigation by the board in connection with a complaint or formal charge, then the requestor is authorized to obtain criminal history record information relating to the named individual from the sheriff's office pursuant to section 411.087(a)(2) of the Government Code. See id. §§ 411.087(a)(2), .125(a). Thus, if any of these conditions is met, then the sheriff's office must make available to the requestor any criminal history record information under section 411.087. See Collins v. Tex Mall, L.P., 297 S.W.3d 409, 415 (Tex. App.— Fort Worth 2009, no pet.) (statutory provision controls and preempts common law only when statute directly conflicts with common law principle); CenterPoint Energy Houston Elec. LLC v. Harris County Toll Rd., 436 F.3d 541, 544 (5th Cir. 2006) (common law controls only where there is no conflicting or controlling statutory law). However, if the individual at issue does not meet any of the criteria of subsections 411.125(a)(1)-(3), then the board does not have a special right of access to any criminal history record information under section 411.087 of the Government Code. In that event, to the extent the sheriff's office maintains law enforcement records depicting the named individual as a suspect, arrestee, or criminal defendant, the sheriff's office must withhold such information under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy.¹

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.
