Dear Mr. Bounds:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 489422 (Corpus Christi ID# JHer3).

The Corpus Christi Police Department (the "department") received a request for information related to incident number 1303160121 and all reports related to the requestor's address during a specified time period. You state the department is making some of the requested information available to the requestor and will redact information pursuant to section 552.130(c) of the Government Code and Open Records Decision No. 684 (2009)¹. You claim portions of the submitted information are excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. public. See Indus. Found. v. Tex. Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668 (Tex. 1976). To demonstrate the applicability of common-law privacy, both prongs of this test must be established. Id. at 681-82. The types of information considered intimate or embarrassing by the Texas Supreme Court in Industrial Foundation included information relating to sexual assault, pregnancy, mental or physical abuse in the workplace, illegitimate children, psychiatric treatment of mental disorders, attempted suicide, and injuries to sexual organs. See id. at 683. This office has found that some kinds of medical information or information indicating disabilities or specific illnesses are excepted from required public disclosure under common-law privacy. See Open Records Decision Nos. 470 (1987) (illness from severe emotional and job-related stress), 455 (1987) (prescription drugs, illnesses, operations, and physical handicaps). Upon review, we agree portions of the information at issue are highly intimate or embarrassing and not of legitimate public concern. Thus, the department must withhold the information you have marked pursuant to section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with common-law privacy.
