Texas Department of Public Safety

OR2013-11211

Dear Ms. Freeland:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 491972 (PIR#'s 13-1526 and 13-2000).

The Texas Department of Public Safety (the "department") received two requests from the same requestor for information related to her arrest and two requests from another requestor for information related to his arrest. You state the department has released some of the requested information. You claim some of the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.108 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Initially, we note the information you seek to withhold includes the results of an analysis of an individual's blood specimen. Section 724.018 of the Transportation Code provides that on request of the person who has given a specimen at the request of a peace officer, full information concerning the analysis of the specimen must be made available to that person or the person's attorney. Transp. Code § 724.018. In this instance, the second requestor is the individual whose blood specimen is at issue. Although you seek to withhold the result of the analysis of the blood specimen under section 552.108 of the Government Code, as a general rule the general exceptions to disclosure found in the Act do not apply to information other statutes make public. See Open Records Decision Nos. 623 at 3 (1994), 525 at 3 (1989). Thus, the department must release the analysis of his blood specimen to the second requestor pursuant to section 724.018 of the Transportation Code.

Section 552.108(a)(1) of the Government Code excepts from disclosure “[i]nformation held by a law enforcement agency or prosecutor that deals with the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crime . . . if . . . release of the information would interfere with the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crime[.]” Gov’t Code § 552.108(a)(1). Generally, a governmental body claiming section 552.108(a)(1) must reasonably explain how and why the release of the requested information would interfere with law enforcement. See id. § 552.301(e)(1)(A); see also Ex parte Pruitt, 551 S.W.2d 706 (Tex. 1977).

You inform us the information at issue relates to an ongoing criminal case. Based upon your representation and our review, we find the release of the remaining information you have marked would interfere with the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crime. See Houston Chronicle Publ’g Co. v. City of Houston, 531 S.W.2d 177 (Tex. Civ. App.—Houston [14th Dist.] 1975) (court delineates law enforcement interests that are present in active cases), writ ref’d n.r.e. per curiam, 536 S.W.2d 559 (Tex. 1976). Thus, the department may withhold the remaining marked information under section 552.108(a)(1) of the Government Code.

In summary, the department must release the results of the analysis of his blood specimen to the second requestor pursuant to section 724.018 of the Transportation Code. The department may withhold the remaining information you have marked under section 552.108(a)(1) of the Government Code.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
