Dear Mr. Evans:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 506896.

The Balch Springs Police Department (the "department") received a request for information pertaining to a specified incident. You state some of the requested information has been or will be released. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.108 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Initially, we note the purpose of the Act is to prescribe conditions under which members of the general public can obtain information from a governmental body. See Attorney General Opinion JM-119 (1983) (statutory predecessor). An official of a governmental body who, in an official capacity, requests information held by the governmental body is not acting as a member of the public in doing so. Id. Thus, exceptions to public disclosure under the Act do not control the official's right of access to information maintained by the governmental body. See id. at 3 (member of community college district board of trustees, acting in official capacity, has an inherent right of access to information maintained by district).

In this instance, the requestor is a Balch Springs city council member. There is no indication the requestor is requesting the information in her official capacity as a city council member.

Therefore, we find the requestor is making the present request in her personal capacity as a member of the public. Accordingly, we will address your arguments against disclosure.

Next, you ask whether the requestor has a right of access to the submitted information under the Michael Morton Act, which amends article 39.14 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. We note this amendment does not take effect until January 1, 2014. Crim. Proc. Code art. 39.14. Thus, we find this section inapplicable. We further note the Act differs in purpose from statutes and procedural rules providing for discovery in judicial proceedings. See Gov't Code §§ 552.005 (the Act does not affect scope of civil discovery), .0055 (subpoena duces tecum or request for discovery issued in compliance with statute or rule of civil or criminal procedure is not considered to be request for information under the Act). The discovery process is a process through which parties to litigation can obtain information pertaining to the litigation. A public information request under the Act is a process in which any individual may request information from a governmental body. Thus, the discovery process has no bearing on the availability of information requested under Act.

Section 552.108(a)(1) of the Government Code excepts from disclosure “[i]nformation held by a law enforcement agency or prosecutor that deals with the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crime . . . if . . . release of the information would interfere with the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crime[.]” Id. § 552.108(a)(1). A governmental body claiming section 552.108 must reasonably explain how and why the release of the requested information would interfere with law enforcement. See id. §§ 552.108(a)(1), .301(e)(1)(A); see also Ex parte Pruitt, 551 S.W.2d 706 (Tex. 1977). You state the submitted information relates to a pending criminal investigation and prosecution. Based on your representation and our review, we conclude the release of the submitted information would interfere with the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crime. See Houston Chronicle Publ'g Co. v. City of Houston, 531 S.W.2d 177 (Tex. Civ. App.—Houston [14th Dist.] 1975) (court delineates law enforcement interests present in active cases), writ ref'd n.r.e. per curiam, 536 S.W.2d 559 (Tex. 1976). Thus, section 552.108(a)(1) is applicable to the submitted information.

Section 552.108, however, does not except from disclosure basic information about an arrested person, an arrest, or a crime. Gov't Code § 552.108(c). Basic information refers to the information held to be public in Houston Chronicle. See 531 S.W.2d at 186-88; see also Open Records Decision No. 127 at 3-4 (1976) (summarizing types of information considered to be basic information). Thus, with the exception of basic information, which you state has been or will be released, the department may withhold the submitted information under section 552.108(a)(1) of the Government Code.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For more information concerning those rights and responsibilities, please visit our website at http://www.texasattorneygeneral.gov/open/orl_ruling_info.shtml, or call the Office of the Attorney General's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. Questions concerning the allowable charges for providing public information under the Act may be directed to the Office of the Attorney General, toll free, at (888) 672-6787.
