

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS
GREG ABBOTT

February 7, 2014

Ms. Christie Hobbs
Counsel for the Cleburne Independent School District
Leasor Crass, P.C.

Mansfield, Texas 76063

OR2014-02419

Dear Ms. Hobbs:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 513427.

The Cleburne Independent School District (the "district"), which you represent, received a request for all billing statements for legal fees for two specified months. You state you have released some information to the requestor, with redactions in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA"), section 1232(g) of title 20 of the United States Code.¹ You claim portions of the submitted information are excepted from disclosure under section 552.107 of the Government Code and privileged under rule 503 of the Texas

¹The United States Department of Education Family Policy Compliance Office (the "DOE") has informed this office that FERPA does not permit a state educational agency or institution to disclose to this office, without parental or an adult student's consent, unredacted, personally identifiable information contained in education records for the purpose of our review in the open records ruling process under the Act. See 34 C.F.R. § 99.3 (defining "personally identifiable information"). The DOE has determined that FERPA determinations must be made by the educational institution from which the education records were obtained. A copy of the DOE's letter to this office may be found on the Office of the Attorney General's website: <http://www.oag.state.tx.us/open/20060725usdoe.pdf>.

Rules of Evidence.² We have considered your arguments and reviewed the submitted information.

We note the submitted information is subject to section 552.022 of the Government Code. Section 552.022(a) provides, in relevant part:

(a) [T]he following categories of information are public information and not excepted from required disclosure unless made confidential under this chapter or other law:

(16) information that is in a bill for attorney's fees and that is not privileged under the attorney-client privilege[.]

Gov't Code § 552.022(a)(16). The submitted information consists of attorney fee bills subject to section 552.022(a)(16). Thus, the submitted information must be released unless it is made confidential under the Act or other law. See id. You seek to withhold the submitted information under section 552.107 of the Government Code. However, this section is a discretionary exception and does not make information confidential under the Act. See Open Records Decision Nos. 676 at 10-11 (2002) (attorney-client privilege under Gov't Code § 552.107(1) may be waived), 665 at 2 n.5 (2000) (discretionary exceptions generally), 663 at 5 (1999) (waiver of discretionary exceptions). Therefore, the submitted information may not be withheld under this exception. The Texas Supreme Court has held, however, the Texas Rules of Evidence are "other law" within the meaning of section 552.022. See In re City of Georgetown, 53 S.W.3d 328, 336 (Tex. 2001). Accordingly, we will address your attorney-client privilege claim under rule 503 of the Texas Rules of Evidence for the information you have marked. Additionally, because section 552.136 of the Government Code makes information confidential under the Act, we will address its applicability to the submitted information.³

²Although you also raise section 552.022 of the Government Code, we note section 552.022 is not an exception to disclosure. Rather, section 552.022 enumerates categories of information that are not excepted from disclosure unless they are made confidential under the Act or other law. See Gov't Code § 552.022. Additionally, although you raise sections 552.101 and 552.111 of the Government Code and rule 192.5 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure you make no arguments to support these exceptions or this rule. Accordingly, we understand the district no longer asserts these exceptions or this rule. See Gov't Code § 552.301(e) (governmental body must provide comments stating why exceptions raised should apply to information requested).

³The Office of the Attorney General will raise a mandatory exception on behalf of a governmental body but ordinarily will not raise other exceptions. See Open Records Decision Nos. 481 (1987), 480 (1987), 470 (1987).

Texas Rule of Evidence 503 enacts the attorney-client privilege. Rule 503(b)(1) provides as follows:

A client has a privilege to refuse to disclose and to prevent any other person from disclosing confidential communications made for the purpose of facilitating the rendition of professional legal services to the client:

(A) between the client or a representative of the client and the client's lawyer or a representative of the lawyer;

(B) between the lawyer and the lawyer's representative;

(C) by the client or a representative of the client, or the client's lawyer or a representative of the lawyer, to a lawyer or a representative of a lawyer representing another party in a pending action and concerning a matter of common interest therein;

(D) between representatives of the client or between the client and a representative of the client; or

(E) among lawyers and their representatives representing the same client.

TEX. R. EVID. 503(b)(1). A communication is "confidential" if it is not intended to be disclosed to third persons other than those to whom disclosure is made in furtherance of the rendition of professional legal services to the client or those reasonably necessary for the transmission of the communication. Id. 503(a)(5).

Thus, in order to withhold attorney-client privileged information from disclosure under rule 503, a governmental body must: (1) show the document is a communication transmitted between privileged parties or reveals a confidential communication; (2) identify the parties involved in the communication; and (3) show the communication is confidential by explaining it was not intended to be disclosed to third persons and it was made in furtherance of the rendition of professional legal services to the client. Upon a demonstration of all three factors, the information is privileged and confidential under rule 503, provided the client has not waived the privilege or the document does not fall within the purview of the exceptions to the privilege enumerated in rule 503(d). See Pittsburgh Corning Corp. v. Caldwell, 861 S.W.2d 423, 427 (Tex. App.—Houston [14th Dist.] 1993, no writ).

You assert the portions of the submitted information you have marked document communications made for the purpose of providing legal advice and legal services to the district. You state these communications were made between or among attorneys for the district, attorney representatives, and district officials and the communications at issue were confidential at the time they occurred and have been kept confidential since that time. Based on your representations and our review, we find you have established portions of the information at issue, which we have marked, constitute confidential attorney-client communications under rule 503. Thus, the district may withhold the information we have marked pursuant to Texas Rule of Evidence 503. However, we find the remaining information you have marked either documents communications with individuals you have not demonstrated are privileged parties or you have not demonstrated the information consists of a communication. Thus, you have failed to demonstrate the remaining information you have marked documents confidential communications between privileged parties. Accordingly, the remaining information may not be withheld under Texas Rule of Evidence 503.

Section 552.136(b) of the Government Code provides, “[n]otwithstanding any other provision of [the Act], a credit card, debit card, charge card, or access device number that is collected, assembled, or maintained by or for a governmental body is confidential.” Gov’t Code § 552.136(b); see id. § 552.136(a) (defining “access device”). Accordingly, the district must withhold the information we have marked under section 552.136 of the Government Code.

In summary, the district may withhold the information we have marked under Texas Rule of Evidence 503. The district must withhold the information we have marked under section 552.136 of the Government Code. The district must release the remaining information.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
