Dear Ms. Henry:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 631241 (ORR# NAIE080916).

The Plano Police Department (the "department") received a request for an incident report concerning a named individual. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. Section 552.101 encompasses section 58.007 of the Family Code, which provides, in part:

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d), law enforcement records and files concerning a child and information stored, by electronic means or otherwise, concerning the child from which a record or file could be generated may not be disclosed to the public and shall be:

(1) if maintained on paper or microfilm, kept separate from adult files and records;

(2) if maintained electronically in the same computer system as records or files relating to adults, be accessible under controls that are separate and distinct from controls to access electronic data concerning adults; and

(3) maintained on a local basis only and not sent to a central state or federal depository, except as provided by Subchapters B, D, and E.

Fam. Code § 58.007(c); see id. § 51.03(a) (defining “delinquent conduct” for purposes of title 3 of Family Code). Section 58.007(c) is applicable to records of juvenile conduct that occurred on or after September 1, 1997. The juvenile must have been at least 10 years old and less than 17 years of age when the conduct occurred. See id. § 51.02(2) (defining “child” for purposes of title 3 of Family Code). We find the submitted information involves a juvenile offender, so as to fall within the scope of section 58.007(c). It does not appear that any of the exceptions in section 58.007 apply. Therefore, the submitted information is generally confidential under section 58.007(c) of the Family Code.

However, the requestor is with the Texas State Board of Pharmacy Police Department (the “board”). Section 411.122(a) of the Government Code provides, in part, as follows:

[A]n agency of this state listed in Subsection (d) . . . that licenses or regulates members of a particular trade, occupation, business, vocation, or profession is entitled to obtain from the [Department of Public Safety] criminal history record information maintained by the [Department of Public Safety] that relates to a person who: (1) is an applicant for a license from the agency; (2) is the holder of a license from the agency; or (3) requests a determination of eligibility for a license from the agency.

Gov’t Code § 411.122(a). The board is specifically subject to section 411.122 of the Government Code. See id. § 411.122(d)(14). In addition, section 411.087(a) of the Government Code provides, in pertinent part, the following:

(a) [A] person, agency, department, political subdivision, or other entity that is authorized by this subchapter or Subchapter E-1 to obtain from the [Department of Public Safety] criminal history record information maintained by the [Department of Public Safety] that relates to another person is authorized to:

(2) obtain from any other criminal justice agency in this state criminal history record information maintained by that criminal justice agency that relates to that person.

Id. §411.087(a)(2). Criminal history record information is defined as “information collected about a person by a criminal justice agency that consists of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, and other formal criminal charges and their dispositions.” See id. § 411.082(2). Thus, under sections 411.122 and 411.087, the requestor may have a right of access to any criminal history record information about the named individual contained in the department’s records. The submitted information contains criminal history record information about this individual. Therefore, if the named individual is an applicant for a license from the board, is the holder of a license from the board, or requested a determination of eligibility for a license from the board, then the requestor is authorized to obtain the criminal history record information pertaining to the named individual pursuant to sections 411.087(a)(2) and 411.122 of the Government Code. See id. §§ 411.087(a)(2), .122(a). Accordingly, we must address the conflict between the confidentiality provided by section 58.007(c) of the Family Code and the requestor’s possible right of access to the criminal history record information at issue under sections 411.087(a)(2) and 411.122 of the Government Code.

Where information falls within both a general and a specific statutory provision, the specific provision prevails over the general statute. See id. § 311.026 (where general statutory provision conflicts with specific provision, specific provision prevails as exception to general provision unless the general provision is the later enactment and the manifest intent is that the general provision prevail); Cuellar v. State, 521 S.W.2d 277 (Tex. Crim. App.1975) (under well-established rule of statutory construction, specific statutory provisions prevail over general ones). Although section 58.007(c) generally makes juvenile law enforcement records confidential, section 411.122 of the Government Code, in concert with section 411.087(a)(2) of the Government Code, gives the board access to particular information, criminal history record information, found in records involving an individual who is an applicant for a license from the board, is the holder of a license from the board, or requests a determination of eligibility for a license from the board. See Gov’t Code § 411.122(a)(1), (d)(14); Fam. Code § 58.007. Thus, the statutory right of access granted to the board by sections 411.087(a)(2) and 411.122 of the Government Code prevails over the more general confidentiality provision of section 58.007(c) of the Family Code. Therefore, if the named individual is an applicant for a license from the board, is the holder of a license from the board, or requested a determination of eligibility for a license from the board, then the department must release the information that shows the types of allegations made and whether there was an arrest, information, indictment, detention, conviction, or other formal charges and their dispositions pertaining to the named individual pursuant to sections 411.087(a)(2) and 411.122 of the Government Code, but must withhold the remaining information under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 58.007(c) of the Family Code. If the named individual is not an applicant for a license from the board, the holder of a license from the board, or requesting a determination of eligibility for a license from the board, then the department must withhold the submitted information in its entirety under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 58.007(c) of the Family Code.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
