Texas Office of the Attorney General Names Houston Child Support Employee Assistant Attorney General of the Year

Kara O'Callaghan was singled out as the region's top attorney for her dedication to Texas children

Houston – The Office of the Attorney General recognized Kara O'Callaghan, an Assistant Attorney General (AAG) in the Child Support Division's Houston office, for her commitment to Texas children. O'Callaghan was named Assistant Attorney General of the Year for the Child Support Division's Region 6. She was presented with the award on Monday, August 1, 2022, at the Statewide Assistant Attorneys General Virtual Conference.

"I commend Kara for her hard work and dedication to improving the lives of Texas children and families," Attorney General Paxton said. "Kara represents the best, and it is attorneys like her that make this agency great. I am thankful to her for answering the call to serve the people of Texas."

One Assistant Attorney General was selected for this honor from each of the state's ten child support regions, along with an Assistant Attorney General from the Child Support Division headquarters office in Austin. Honorees are chosen based on recommendations from their peers and supervisors, focusing on employees willing to go beyond their normal duties to serve Texas children. Each recipient demonstrates a desire to serve Texas families, help their colleagues, and enhance the Attorney General's Child Support Division.

O'Callaghan, who joined the Office of the Attorney General in 2019, represents the State of Texas in legal actions to establish paternity between children of unmarried parents and their biological fathers. She also works to establish, enforce, and modify court orders requiring parents to provide child support, medical support, and dental support.

A graduate of the South Texas College of Law, O'Callaghan was chosen as the region's Assistant Attorney General of the Year for being an exemplary attorney, willing trainer, and a strong leader. She has demonstrated the willingness to take on any task and provide wise legal direction to her co-workers. She has earned a reputation as a reliable leader.

"Kara O'Callaghan consistently exhibits the ideal traits of an Assistant Attorney General. Her professionalism is regularly displayed, arriving ready to work with a smile and truly happy to do her job. She works quickly, is knowledgeable, and presents legal arguments to the court so that justice prevails. Her dedication and solid work ethic have been vital, not only to the success of her
